Attend The Elks' Carnival Saturday And Monday

Everything In Readiness For Opening Saturday Night; Major Prizes Are $50 Bonds Each Night

Bingo on The Hour Prize Expected to be Big Attraction; Standard of Prizes Said to be Above Those of Past Years.

Coleman Elks have been wiping the perspiration from their hands some weeks ago as they saved and hammered away at board and nail in an effort to build the various booths in which to house their carnival prizes.

The carnival will run both Saturday and Monday nights, doors opening at 7:30 each evening.

Despite the fact that the carnival committee would have liked to sponsor worth while major prizes the law has limited the prize to a $50 bond each evening. Tickets will be good on both the Saturday and Monday draws on the two major prizes.

Carnival chairman George Jenkins has spent many hours endeavoring to secure prizes for the various booths that would be above the standard of past years. He believes he has succeeded and tells of his blankets, dolls, etc. He is particularly proud of his Bingo on the Hour prize which will be a $25 gent's dressing set with zipper lock. Three of these sets will be given away each evening on the hour, starting at 9 o'clock.

The Jitney dance will be in full swing each evening and dance lovers can be assured of sweet music both evenings.

Proceeds from the carnival will be placed in the lodge's building fund, a fund which has been built up through the years in order to build a lodge hall.

Sports Association Urges The Construction Of A Civic Centre In Flumerfelt Park

Council Has Plans to Beautify Park; Project First To Receive Approval of Citizens; Skating Arena to Again Be Used This Year.

Coleman Community Sports Association and the town council met in conference on Sunday, June 16, to discuss in detail proposals relating to the erection of a civic centre.

R. R. Pattinson, secretary of the association, submitted a report in which he emphasized the fact that the present arena was on the verge of being condemned and that much needed repairs would still provide only a make-shift building suitable for recreation for only part of the year. He further urged the necessity of the erection of a new building to overcome the disadvantages of the present building.

The council recommended that a "representative governing committee" be appointed to study the type of building suitable for a civic centre and to gather costs and other data. Council also recommended the appointment of a "works committee" whose duty it would be to canvass the town for funds to erect the centre.

Council agreed to the Association's suggestion that the most attractive site or the civic centre would be in Flumerfelt Park. It has a large scale park improvement project in mind and desired the right to select the site. It was also mutually agreed that a centralized arrangement would be more economically and more efficiently supervised.

It was agreed that a recommendation be submitted to the "governing committee" that a start be made on the centre this summer with it being completed in 1947. In the meantime the present arena is to be used again this winter for community activity.

In order to finance such a community undertaking it was felt that pledges of support would be necessary. As soon as the public endorsement of the proposed centre the "works committee" will interview all wage-earners so that a worthwhile recreation centre can be erected.

The Coleman Board of Trade's Stampede Committee has earmarked the net proceeds of its August 3 rodeo for such a project. Support to the Rodeo simply means support to Coleman civic centre.

Q. What percentage of moderate-ly advanced cases become arrested?

A. This depends entirely on the kind and length of treatment, and might vary from 60 to 65 percent or more.

Notice To Water Consumers

The latest analysis received from Edmonton on the local drinking water supply reveals that the water remains pure.

BILL LONSBURY CAUGHT 19 1/2-INCH RAINBOW

Bill Lonsbury has come up with the largest rainbow trout caught to date in the new fishing season.

Fishing in the Cowley district of the Old Man river Bill got his hook in the mouth of a 19 1/2-inch rainbow and after a hectic struggle was successful in landing this beauty.

A number of nice trout measuring up to 11 inches were caught in the river running through east Coleman.

Heavy rains during the past few weeks has caused the rivers to rise far above normal, with the result that fishing is not up to expectations.

Local Cadet Corps Go To Camp At Sarcee On Sunday

Second-Lieutenant Jim Cousins to Accompany Boys; Thirty-Five Boys to be in Party.

Thirty-five Coleman youths, ranging in age from 14 to 18 years, members of Coleman's Cadet Corps, will board the early morning train on Sunday and head for Sarcee camp, where they will spend ten glorious days under canvas.

They are scheduled to take part in the Calgary Stampede parade along with cadets from other parts of the province and will be allowed to attend the stampede for at least half the week, their stay at Sarcee concluding on July 10.

Parents or friends wishing to correspond with the youths are asked to keep in mind the following address:

"D" Company,
Canadian Army Cadet Corps,
Sarcee Camp,
Calgary, Alberta.

ATTENTION SCOTSMEN, CAN YOU BEAT THIS!

Can you beat this for tightness. James McKay, of Longriggind, Lanarkshire, Scotland, has written the word "Churchill" 420 times on a postage stamp.

Ed's Note: Longriggind is the home town of Peter Smith.

DISBAND AIR CADET COMMITTEE

The air cadet committee under the chairmanship of C. D. Rogers and sponsored by the Lions club has been disbanded. This was announced by Lions president S. C. Short on Monday evening.

Tribute was paid to the committee for their fine work with the young boys, a number of whom up on reaching the age limit enlisted with the RCAF.

Three Local Cowboys To Ride In Rodeo

Charlie Yagos, George Aldoff Signify Intention of Riding; Bill Clark to Also Take Part.

There are at least three young men, all raised on Alberta's ranch lands and now residents of Coleman, who have signified their intentions of entering Coleman's Crow View Rodeo in the role of contestants rather than spectators.

They are Charlie Yagos, who has ridden in all the big rodeos, including the Calgary Stampede. Charlie is one of the featured riders at the annual Macleod rodeo. George Aldoff has also ridden in the Calgary Stampede and last year won good money prizes at Vancouver where he was one of the star riders. He just recently won first money at Maxton and Picture Butte rodeos. The third young man is Bill Clark. Bill has ridden in Macleod, Lethbridge and also the Calgary Stampede. He is an expert horseman and is in fact one of the instigators that got Coleman rodeo conscious.

Spectators can rest assured that they will be able to keep abreast of activities. A powerful public address system has been rented and new negotiations are under way to bring in an experienced announcer for the rodeo.

Enquiries are being received from several cowboys interested in appearing here and Herman Linder is using his influence in bringing cowboys to Coleman for the big day.

The entry forms will be available Friday evening and will be in the mail to possibly 200 cowboys by the week end.

The field is rapidly getting into shape. Members of the Board of Trade were scheduled to come out as a body with picks and shovels on Wednesday evening and the Lions club was scheduled for Thursday evening.

The town council has used its influence in bringing in road machinery to widen and improve the road to the sports field. Two cars can now pass each other quite easily on the former steep incline to the field. Parking zones will be marked out to handle traffic and thus eliminate much confusion the day of the rodeo.

All organizations are being circularized by the committee to get a float into the parade. The more floats plus the town bands, that there are in the parade the greater the success it will be. In addition the cowboy contestants will also be a spectacle in the parade.

New Road To Cemetery Discussed; Council May Secure Own Asphalter; Lack Of Cement Halts Program

Three Business Houses Given Permission to Sell Additional Products; Fire Traps Discussed.

Regular monthly meeting of the council was held on Tuesday evening. Present Mayor Abousafy, Councillors Cox, Lowe, Ramsay and Wilson.

Mr. Ross Foster was present to ask council for an improved drainage system alongside his residence on Second street. The home is located at the side of the hill and a great deal of surplus rain water finds its way into his basement. Council promised to have the town foreman inspect the trouble and take measures to correct it.

Mr. R. Parry was present to ask that two street lights be installed nearby his property on the Flat. Council promised to rectify the matter.

Constable Antle submitted his report. Large trucks are parking in front of Excel Builders to the extent that the proprietor is unable to secure parking space in front of his own building. A yellow marker will be placed on the sidewalk to inform trucks not to park in this particular area.

Complaints have been received from truck drivers and motorists regarding the children of sixth street playing on the streets. Constable Antle suggested that two vacant lots on Fifth street be improved and made into a playground. Following discussion the matter was let drop.

The fire chief's report was submitted. Peter Smith's residence on Sixth street was in danger of being destroyed May 23 when the chimney caught fire. However it was caught soon enough so that the garden hose was sufficient to extinguish the blaze. On June 14 three children set fire to garage full of rubbish in the J. Root garage on main street. The fire brigade answered the alarm.

The cost to the town of the two fires and five practices during May and June totalled $77.

Councilor Ramsay started discussion on the number of old sheds behind Main street which appeared to be nothing more than fire traps. Upon his suggestion the police was authorized to make a detailed inspection of all these old sheds, examine their contents and if, in his opinion, the contents constituted a fire trap they had to be removed immediately.

The chimney on the J. Root home on Main street was described as being in a dangerous condition and a letter will be sent asking that improvements be made to it immediately.

Medical Health Officer submitted his report. It revealed that the sanitary condition of the town continued to improve.

Council was informed by Edmonton that two elderly local ladies have been granted their first Old Age pension cheques. Another lady, recently bereaved, has been granted her Mothers' Allowance cheque.

The latest water analysis from Edmonton reveals that the local drinking water supply remains pure.

Three local business houses, upon the advice of the WPTPB, asked council's recommendation to sell new products. Ding & Lew's Service Station asked permission to sell new and used cars as well as sporting goods. Salus General Store asked to be permitted to operate a Class "A" restaurant. J. M. Chalmers' Jewelry asked to handle electrical supplies and appliances. Council will support all three requests.

A Lethbridge gentleman offered council a grader, 10 foot blade, for $1200. Council was not interested.

The town of Macleod has built itself an asphalt spreader. It was decided to send town foreman Joe Malanchuk along with a councillor to Macleod and study the structure of the machine. Following their report council may construct a similar machine in order to improve residential streets.

It was revealed that the sidewalk program was being held up due to the lack of cement. Should this condition continue for any length of time it was agreed that the hard-surfacing of the streets be extended beyond the program planned for this summer.

Council will recommend to the Calgary Military Depot in charge of Cadet training that a site on the sports field be set up as a shooting range. Permission of International Coal & Coke Co., owners of the land, has been secured.

A $10 donation was given to the CNP Mine Rescue and First Aid Association which is sponsoring competitions at Blairmore on July 1.

A $5 donation was granted the Navy League of Canada.

Further study is to be given the appeal received from the Memorial Park committee.

International Coal & Coke Co. is contemplating purchasing fire equipment for the protection of its property. The company and council will meet in conference to discuss types of equipment to be purchased in order that it might fit onto the equipment which the council owns

Fish From The Sky

Scientist Claims The Fish Really Fall With Rain

The question is whether fish fall from the sky with rain.

Those who think so, sit over there with Dr. E. W. Guder of the American Museum of Natural History. Take your own bushel baskets.

The rest may join Prof. Bergen Evans of Northwestern University's English department, who contends all this talk about it raining fish is one of "the most delightful... myths."

It's no myth at all, Guder said indignantly in the current issue of Science, publication of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Guder's massed perhaps the most exhaustive studies ever made of rainfalls speckled with fish—live ones, dead ones, rotten ones and even partly eaten ones. There have been at least 78 different rains of fish in the last 2,500 years—17 of them in the United States, he said. And even though he's never personally witnessed a piscatorial shower, he is convinced that reports, some of them from men of science, are accurate.

Guder got mad and pounded out a letter to science after Evans had taken the trouble in the April issue of the Atlantic Monthly to throw cold water on Guder's writings about fish storms.

Take the case of the fish fall in India in 1830, an incident which surprised the natives no end and sub-jugated the basis of Guder's first article on the subject.

Evans retorted: "Some of Dr. Guder's more reliable witnesses make the interesting point that the fish descended on them were headless, rotten and partly eaten."

Evans suggested, not a rain of fishes.

Evans forgot, Guder countered, that the same two reliable witnesses reported that some of the fish which flopped onto their turbans were fresh; a few witnesses even took some home.

Guder explained that whirlwinds, waterspouts and perhaps strong typhoons and monsoon winds suck up fish from water and then plunk them onto the countryside.

Guder did not mention the mysterious clam which once fell onto a man's head in Yuma, Ariz., 60 miles from salt water. It took the good people of Yuma two days to come up with the most plausible explanation: the clam was heaved from a garbage dump a few yards away.

Flying Hotel Luxury

What Bankers Sell

The Success Of Any Bank Lies In The Service It Gives

R. J. Deachman, Ottawa publicist, comments on a recent banker's advertisement which he picked up. The wording of this ad shows a serious effort to inform business men and others of the real functions of the bank, the reciprocity between bank and customer in advantage and profit. It was not over this in the banking world, but things have changed notably for the better in the past 20 years at least. This advertisement reads:

"When the housewife calls at the grocery store and orders a supply of provisions, she is not asking a favor—she is buying goods for which she will pay on delivery—purely a matter of business.

"So with your bank. It is a business proposition just as much as the grocery store.

"The grocer deals in groceries—the banker deals in credit. And as the making of loans is one of the principal ways by which his bank derives its revenue, he is as anxious to sell his credit as the grocer is to sell his groceries. And, like the grocer, the banker naturally wants to know that he is going to be paid for his goods—that his loans will be met when they fall due. That, too, is only good business.

"When you have occasion to ask for a loan, look at it this way. Come to the bank, not feeling that you have to ask a favor, but to offer the manager a sound business proposition which will be of profit both to you and to his institution."

The success of any chartered bank in Canada today, and all are successful as well as sound, lies in the service rendered. It is pointed out that the banks of Canada have more millions of money on deposit now than at any time in history, despite the huge subscription to war loans.

Why is it so. Because over the long years Canadian banks have fortified themselves in the confidence of the public, and by public is meant, tens of thousands of foreign born, whose habits of thrift and safety in their own lands induced them to hoard and hide what they accumulated. If no public confidence existed in the banking system, it would be a nullity in national service, and a field for loan sharks. Banks which loan money out for business, industry and sound usage first have to get that money from the earnings of the people.—St. Catharines Standard.

Saved By Disguise

The Leader Of Warsaw Uprising Succeeded In Fooling Nazis

Gen. Bor, leader of the Warsaw uprising, told recently of the search made for him by the Nazis after his capture. The general was a cavalry officer before the war. He participated in the 1936 Olympics, where he was photographed with Hitler. He has a cousin, also a cavalry officer, who also participated in the 1936 Olympics and was photographed with Hitler. When the Warsaw revolt failed, and the men were taken prisoners, Bor reassumed the guise of a meek, scholarly teacher, and was treated as an ordinary prisoner. His cousin was sent to a concentration camp because the Nazis thought he was Gen. Bor.

Being Broken Up

Parts Of Mulberry Harbor Have Already Been Sold

Mulberry harbor, the artificial port which saved countless lives and endless delays by providing anchorage for ships off the coast during the Normandy invasion, is being broken up for sale, the British government has revealed.

Arthur Woodburn, parliamentary secretary to the British supply ministry, announced the Netherlands had bought some of the port's huge concrete casings and will use them to repair war-damaged dykes. Pier-head sections have been sold to Iceland and South American engineers are interested in other parts of the structure which they think might be used for harbors in Venezuela.

Mr. Woodburn, in charge of disposal of surplus war stocks, so far has collected 490,000,000 ($400,000,000) from sales of stores ranging from watches and electric light bulbs to bombers and locomotives. The sales, at bargain prices, have mainly been to the British public, allied countries, and the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

Still awaiting buyers are 600 cranes, nearly 4,000 locomotives and freighters, and 58,000 tons of bridging and trackway.

On the home market 60,000 vehicles, the majority of them trucks but including 14,000 motorcycles and a number of cars, have been sold in six months. A total of 174,000 pocket watches, almost unobtainable during the war, has been sold and now 30,000 wrist watches will be put on sale.

Nearly every Netherlands town has a cake or cookie distinctively its own.

A RESTFUL VACATION

Suggestions On How To Enjoy It On Motor Trip

The automobile has given us a marvelous new field in the realm of vacations. The pity is that we do not yet seem to have found out the best way to take advantage of it.

There seems to be something about an automobile that compels a man to be energetic and restless. The average family sets forth on a vacation tour dedicated to the proposition that they must cover at least three hundred miles a day, if for no other reason than to prove that they and their car can do it; and there is no surer way to waste a vacation than this.

The wise ones, on the other hand, refuse to look at mileage marks. Often they will not even carry maps. Their aim is not to cover as much ground as possible, but to loaf along as restfully as possible. They are the ones whose vacations really do them some good.

For an automobile, while it will oblige the motorist with great bursts of speed, is also a fine thing for the loafer. Once you catch on to the trick of it, you can make vacation touring the most restful recreation imaginable. If you are content to idle along, caring not in the least whether you make Niagara that night or whether you have to stop at Grimsby, half way to the Falls, willing to dawdle down the highway, letting any other driver speed past you if he wants to—then the joys of motoring are really yours.

For then you can be, not a restless wanderer, but a contented wanderer. There is a difference. The restless one consumes his own energy. The contented one stores it up. The restless one passes up charming towns and beautiful lakes and valleys in order to get to wherever it is that he is bound; the contented one stops when he comes to a place he likes, turns down any road that appeals to him, never frets himself about the distance he has gone or the distance that still lies before him.

If you have never tried that kind of motoring, this summer would be a fine time to give it a whirl. Leave your map at home, and set out without any destination at all. Make only one resolution—that you will not, under any circumstances, hurry. Drive just for the fun of it and not to get somewhere. You will find motoring to be a lot more enjoyable than you ever dreamed it could be.—Chatham News.

A Coined Word

Pakistan Derived From Initial Letters Of Four Indian States

To the average Canadian who has been following the constitutional arguments in India, the word Pakistan, that independent state sought by the Moslem group under the proposed system of home rule, has been the cause of much conjecture. Questions are asked as to whether it is a native word, or whether it is an actual one.

In reality it is a coined word aimed at describing the four states which the Moslems seek to incorporate into their section of India. It is derived from the initial letters of the four states: P. Punjab; A. Afghan; K. Kashmir; S. Sind; with the final syllable Stan, meaning state. The I is there in as good measure to make the word reasonably pronounceable.—Sherbrooke Daily Record.

Republic Preferred

Polley Of Italy's King Did Not

Suit The People

When the Italian people voted King Umberto off the throne which he has occupied for less than a month, they were not merely registering a preference for a republic over a monarchy. They were returning a verdict and passing a sentence on the House of Savoy. This was proved by the curt manner in which the government announced that the ousted king would leave Italy.

As long as Umberto's father, former King Victor Emmanuel III, took as a model the democratic monarchies of Western Europe—Britain, Holland, the Scandinavian countries, etc.—all went well with the House of Savoy. From the moment when Little Vic attached himself to the coat-tails of the blackguardly dictator, Benito Mussolini, the House of Savoy was doomed.

As a matter of fact, Mussolini abolished the House of Savoy as authentic royalty.—Buffalo Courier-Express.

Something New

United States Navy To Have A Battleship Without Guns

A battleship without guns will be something new in the navies of the world. But the U.S. Navy now plans to complete the Kentucky, originally designed as one of the huge Iowa, Missouri class, without its 16-inch guns.

The battleship has always been regarded primarily as a gun platform, but the Kentucky will be an experimental rocket platform, according to present plans. It also may make some use of atomic weapons, and for that reason its completion is being delayed until after the Bikini blast.—Chicago Daily News.

Health LEAGUE OF CANADA presents TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

BRITAIN'S HEALTH PLAN

A first-hand account of some details of Britain's National Health Service Bill, the provisions of which will place the health of the entire population in the hands of the State, were disclosed by Sir Wilson Jameson, Great Britain's chief medical officer of health, at well-attended public meetings in Toronto and Montreal, both sponsored by the Health League in co-operation with the Canadian Public Health Association.

Sir Wilson said the Bill provides the administrative structure for a comprehensive health service—hospital, specialist, general practitioner, dentist and all nursing care and preventive measures—for every man, woman and child in the country without payment of any fee at the time of need.

The main administration problem would be the linking up of the various parts of the machine. He said the Bill provides the bare bones of the structure, with the "life blood" having to be provided by people of "good will and understanding."

"All a government can do is to provide the opportunity," Sir Wilson said. "It is for all concerned to seize it and develop it in the public interest."

The service is estimated to cost more than $150,000,000 at the outset, with the money provided mainly by the Exchequer, assisted by a payment of $32,000,000 from the National Insurance Fund, and partly from local rates with the help of Exchequer grants.

The Bill provides that the Minister of Health shall assume direct responsibility for hospital and specialist services but he will entrust the actual administration to new regional and local bodies. The general practitioner, dental and pharmacy services will be administered by new local executive councils, nominated one-half by the local professional bodies, and the other half by the major health authorities and the Minister himself.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

PHYSICIAN-- HEAL THYSELF!

By EMILY HERBERT

Copyright
Wheeler Newspaper Syndicate

DOCTOR HARVEY GIBBS, the eminent psychiatrist, paced the spot carpeted floor of his study and smoked his fifth cigarette since dinner. The house was quiet—much too quiet. That's the way it had been ever since his wife left him.

Night after night, alone in the house—and silence. He had tried turning on the radio, but that was worse. For through the noise of the music or the speeches, he would imagine he heard things—a car stopping, the door-bell ringing, light laughter in the hall. "Leone!" And he would click off the radio suddenly and he would hear—nothing! Just blank stillness. So it was better not to play the radio. This way he could listen . . . and wait.

It seemed to Harvey Gibbs that he had been waiting half a lifetime; and yet it was only three months—the time he himself had set. And it had been worth it. He had gambled and won. Leone was coming home that night.

It had been a bitter blow when she told him that she was leaving him—going away with Geoffrey Lane. Harvey Gibbs loved his wife and he believed that she loved him too. But she was young and gay, attractive to men. And Geoffrey was the romantic type, in contrast to his own middle-aged stodginess.

In his practice, Doctor Gibbs encountered dozens of similar marital problems. He usually advised the husband to let his wife have her "fling". Perhaps a great romantic adventure was all she needed. Perhaps, like Leone, she had been cheated of this by an early and practical marriage.

So he had asked Leone to wait three months before asking for a divorce. If she changed her mind she had only to let him know. He would be waiting.

Harvey sat down at his desk and took out the letter he had received from her when only two of the three months had elapsed. Reading it was like turning a knife in a wound but some compulsion made him read it all through again. Already it had been read and handled so often that the creases were worn thin.

It was dated from Florida and told how she and Geoff had rented "the sweetest little cottage" on an isolated part of the beach. How they swam together, and boiled shrimps by a bonfire at midnight, and how she helped Geoff with his writing, and above all how gloriously happy they both were.

"Harvey dear," she had written in her impulsive script "you might just as well start those divorce proceedings, because it's all settled. Geoff and I are going to be happy together forever and ever."

But Harvey had stuck to his agreement and had gone on waiting. Then, only that day, with the time-limit almost expired, he had got her telegram. It lay beside her letter in the desk. He knew the words by heart. "You were right. It didn't work. I left him a week ago."

Just that, and a request that she might come to see him that evening. Probably she was on her way now. Harvey pressed his fingers against his temples. If only the throbbing in his head would stop; then he could think, could realize. He knew he should be wildly happy, but he was so tired, oh, so very tired.

It was as though the strained tenseness of these past months had become so habitual that he no longer knew how to relax. He rubbed his forehead again but still that tight band seemed to be pressing in on his temples. He tried to picture their meeting. Would she have changed, he wondered. He himself had aged years. Only the other day he had caught his old houseman looking at him with an expression of pity. "Pity—for him! The impudence of the fellow! But Leone, he must think of Leone. She would be ashamed and repentant, he knew, and probably humble at first. It would be up to him to nurse her bruised ego, to justify her actions in her own eyes, to forgive her completely and ungrudgingly."

So absorbed was Harvey in his thoughts that the muffled ringing of the doorbell and the quiet footsteps of the servant who answered it failed to pierce the shell of his abstraction. He rose to open the door, and when he stood there, one hand gripping the edge of his desk.

Leone was standing in the doorway. After all his waiting and listening he had after all failed to hear her come home. More beautiful than ever, her cheeks still flushed from the southern sun, she advanced to greet him. Harvey waved her to a chair without speaking. Leone watched him with some concern, uncertain what to do or say. He had sunk back in his chair, staring at her as if he did not really see her.

"Forgive me, my dear," he finally managed to say. "The shock of seeing you suddenly like that—it rather bowled me over."

But still he felt dazed and confused. He heard Leone speaking, but her voice seemed to come from far away. There was a ringing in his ears. It was almost as though he were inside one of those big glass bells they used to have in the laboratory at college. Vacuum bells. He felt better. His head was cooler now and clearer. He could think. He put the handkerchief back in the drawer, and his fingers touched the cold metal of a loaded revolver that lay there.

Suddenly he knew exactly what he must do. And at that moment the band that had been tightening around his temples seemed to break. What a relief! He felt calm and rested again. He stopped trembling.

Holding the handkerchief loosely in his hand, he rose and went to his wife. He put his arm about her shoulders. "This is my answer," said Doctor Harvey Gibbs. And his finger pressed the hard metal under the folds of the clean white handkerchief.

Private Planes

Will Be So Commonplace That They Will Disturb The Peace
Former General Doolittle's prediction that 400,000 private planes will be flying in the United States within nine years, is no doubt a sign of great aviation progress. Yet the average citizen is bound to wonder how much peace and quiet can be expected when such a goal is reached. The night and day drone of planes is already causing annoyance to householders living in the neighbourhood of airports. What is it going to be like when flying has become commonplace? Let us hope plane manufacturers are working on silencing devices to tone down the racket.—Boston Post.

EROSION PROBLEMS

Building Along Coast Of Britain Undermined By The Sea

Along the east coast and in Wales, the people talk of "vanishing Britain"—vanishing into the sea. Erosion is a growing problem, accentuated by six years of war that saw sea-walls crumble from want of repair and deep gashes cut by the waves in areas where protection could not be provided for want of labor and materials.

Now so much work must be done that municipalities contend they cannot finance it. Meetings are being held to urge the national government to accept responsibility. Pleasant coastal villages are waiting to be swallowed up, gradually, without hope. Substantial buildings, undermined by the sea, are doomed. On the East Norfolk coast, facing the North Sea, the broken sections of a thick flint wall are half-buried in the sand below high-water mark. It is the top of a church's tower—last vestige of a sizable village.

At Caister, north of Yarmouth, pillboxes built for defence during the war have been toppled over. In 1942 the sea advanced 100 yards in six months. It still is advancing 10 feet a year.

A massive concrete sea-wall at Lowestoft, built some years ago, fell recently to east coast storms and now is undermined and useless. At Mundesley, Norfolk, a new cliff flung tumbled hotel outbuildings to the sands; and at Overstrand, near Cromer, houses and a hotel soon will disappear.

In the west, erosion is most serious in Wales, with most damage at Rhyll, Colwyn Bay and between Llanelli and Kidwelly River. The south coast, too, is losing ground, at points between Bexhill and Eastbourne, Newhaven and Brighton and Shoreham and Chichester.

Adequate defence is estimated to cost £150,000 ($677,500) a mile on the worst stretches. Most small centres argue they cannot possibly provide the funds.

Hope For Large Pack

Canadians May Get Plenty Of Canned Salmon This Year

Canadians will be able to enjoy nearly as much canned salmon from the 1946 pack as they did from previous years, according to the grocery trade publication, Canadian Grocer. A report in a recent issue, says 500,000 cases of the 1946 pack have been allotted the domestic market. This represents an increase of 66 per cent. over the amount Canadians got from last year's pack, when only 300,000 cases were retained in this country for Canadian consumption. The year before it was 250,000 and in 1943, 200,000 cases.

Canadian Grocer points out that this is a "cycle" year for sockeye—the choicest variety of all. Packers are hoping for an unusually large crop this year, maybe 800,000 cases of this variety alone, while the total pack of all varieties may run to 1,900,000 cases.

If all goes well Canada will have a large export surplus for the home market and for other sterling countries, as well as being able to satisfy the wants of the home market more completely than has been the case since early in the war.

Canning will commence sometime in June and 1946 salmon should make its first appearance on grocery shelves sometime next December if not before.

Mouth Organs

Harmonicas Are Now Produced In Ontario Plants

Harmonicas labelled "made in Canada" soon may be on sale in all parts of the world, the Trade Department said.

Before the war, Canadian mouth organ fans were dependent on the Hohner plant at Tressingen, Germany, for their favorite musical instrument, but hostilities ended production. Three Ontario plants at Gananoque, Port Credit and Toronto, seized the opportunity to start a new post-war industry and began to manufacture harmonicas.

The production rate now is meeting domestic demand and soon there will be plenty for export, the department said. To facilitate overseas shipments, the Government has decided that export permits for most foreign countries will not be required.

Muskox Sequel

Meeting To Be Next Fall In The Alaska Area

In line with the continental defence policies under study by the permanent joint defence board, Canadian observers will be on hand when large-scale American expeditions to the Canadian Muskox expedition are held next fall and winter in the Alaska area. Canadians will be present on both Operation Frigid and Operation Williwaw in Alaska and full reports on Operation Frost in Wisconsin will be given to the Canadian general staff.

PLENTY OF LAND

Available In Western Canada And Suitable For Homesteading

The land movement of 40 years ago, it is often said, can never be exactly duplicated, because farms are not to be obtained for the asking. It is true that most of the homestead land has been alienated and that a newcomer to the West who wishes to start farming on even terms with the men now established must buy his farm from a private owner. For the immigrants who are so inclined, however, there is still abundant opportunity for the pioneer. That is, there is still homestead land. None of it is near a railway or shipping facilities. But there are lands for a newcomer to the West available for homesteading that are up to the average in fertility and which may, within a few years, be well served by railway lines—Guelph Mercury.

Few Failures

Canada Now Shows A High Solvency In Business

An all-time peak for business solvency in Canada was established in 1945 with only 60 failures showing total liabilities of $1,900,000. These figures, from the records of Dun & Bradstreet, compare with a peak of 3,095 failures in 1922 showing aggregate liabilities of $78,000,000.

If the history of failures following the First Great War provides a forecast of events to come, Canada is heading into a rising tide of failures that will reach its ebb only after the current up-surge of business enthusiasm has been liquidated.

There has been a rush in recent months into all kinds of business enterprises, chiefly by returned men, powered by their war service savings and government loans. Many of these new ventures will, it is predicted, fall by the wayside but there is a feeling that the percentage of business wrecks will not approach the figures recorded in the post-war years of 1918-23.

Not only are statistics dealing with supplies and markets now more readily available but the disasters of 25 years ago left a legacy of experience after the end of the First Great War. The total for 1921 was 2,451 and 1922 brought the record peak or 3,095. Then followed a slow decline until the stock market crash in 1929 and the depression that resulted.

Great Step Forward

Man Invents A Machine To Regulate Length Of Speeches

A Chicago inventor with an eye to giving aid and comfort to suffering humanity has come up with a machine that regulates the length of addresses by after-dinner speakers. This is a great step forward. It is to be fondly hoped that the gadget not only is foolproof, but that the inventor sets to work immediately on the mechanical additions or adjustments necessary to improve the quality of speeches. Most habitual listeners, however, would settle for an attachment to tune out at any time.—New York World Telegram.

Sports College

Membership Is Reported To Be Nearing The 200,000 Mark

"Cue" Lloyd Percival, director of the CBC-YMCA "Sports College", and William R. Cook report that the membership in the College is now nearing the 200,000 mark. There's nothing like "Sports College" in any other place in the world, they say. In Newfoundland whole schools are joining up en masse. There are over 15,000 coaches and club managers in the College. Over a million pieces of literature have been distributed, and nearly a million letters have been received. Athletes like Les Patrick, Syl Apps, Jack Dempsey, Carl Bennett, Colman Clark, Stan Cutts, Dean Cromwell and others endorse the project.

SELF-RELIANCE

We have always thought that one reason farm boys and girls are more self-reliant than boys from the towns and cities is that they see on the farm that there are tasks which can only be accomplished by application and hard work. They have a training in work that stands them in good stead.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

DANGEROUS PRACTICE

One of the most dangerous practices being indulged in at the present time is the cyclist who refuses to equip his machine with lights and waits till it is pitch black before he sets out for his home either in Coleman or Blairmore. Motorists are unable to pick him out until they are almost upon him and when an on-coming car driver refuses to dim lights until the last moment the position of the cyclist is doubly dangerous.

Good weather plus hard-surfaced highway have combined to make the stretch from Coleman to Blairmore more and more popular with the cyclists. It is a very pleasant and healthy pastime, but it would be appreciated if these cyclists would consider their personal safety in greater degree and equip their machines with lights for night cycling.

It is understood that a police check-up of night cycling might be undertaken at any time in the interests of safety.

GIVE LIBERALLY

If Coleman is to have a worthwhile monument in her Memorial Park to honor the dead of this and the first Great Wars she must be prepared to pay for it.

In this particular project the businessmen are expected to show the way. To-date there has been a tendency to leave the circular letter each received asking for a donation unanswered in order to find out what the next door merchant plans on donating. This is a wrong attitude. We know from personal contact with several businessmen that they would be prepared to boost up the ante on this particular donation but do not want to appear too financially robust by donating more than some business houses able to donate two or three times more than their particular donation should they wish.

The objective is $3,000. Each merchant should let his conscience be his guide.

NEED FOR PRIORITY

Canada's eastern industry is gravely short of coal supplies. Strikes in both Canada and the States have so disrupted supply that coal reserves in the east are now practically non-existent. Fully aware of the critical situation Ottawa has stepped into the picture by taking over Great Lake shipping to transport fuel and material to the east. She has also made an appeal to the coal industry to step up production, she has started a nation campaign urging coal consumers to stock up with coal now rather than in the fall and winter when the demand for coal will increase enormously. Alberta coal is to be shipped east, says Ottawa, ignoring the contentious point of freight rates which has kept Alberta coal in volume out of Ontario in the past.

In face of the above what the ordinary layman cannot understand is why Ottawa does not tell other government departments of the need for coal. To produce coal in greater volume the mines must have more miners. To obtain more miners coal companies and municipal councils must secure housing accommodation. To secure housing accommodation at this particular time means building homes.

To build homes in the Crow's Nest Pass during the past few years has been a physical impossibility due to the lack of materials. The Pass is the greatest single producing coal area in the Dominion of Canada yet it is not provided with priority on building material in order to build homes for miners. Its organizations have travelled to Ottawa, approaching M.P.s and Parliamentary committees with negligible results. If coal is to be produced in greater volume the front office will have to tell the back office where to distribute building material, and one of these places in vital need of building material is the Crow's Nest Pass which rightfully should have an A-1 priority on all material pertaining to building.

New Road To

at the present time.
Councillor Fred Cox brought up the matter of the local cemeteries. He revealed that mine surveyors were at present surveying both cemeteries. He lauded the work of the local Elks' lodge in improving graves of departed members. He appealed to Councillor Jim Lowe, who is president of the local branch of the Canadian Legion, to have his organization make improvements to the graves of departed soldiers. Councillor Lowe assured the council he would bring the matter to the attention of his executive and that action would very likely be taken within a short time.

Mayor Abousaffy revealed that he had been giving study on a new roadway to the cemeteries. He suggested that the new road be graded from the J. A. Park residence on Third street past the A. W. H. McLeod residence on Fourth street up past Ed. Milley's house on Sixth street and up the gulley to come out on the flat in front of the Catholic cemetery. The bill alongside the Ed. Milley residence would have to be blasted. Once the road was properly graded he suggested that it be hard-surfaced. Council will thoroughly inspect the proposed project before giving a decision. Mayor Abousaffy also suggested that once the road was laid down the seven lots located on the road that now leads from Fourth to Seventh streets be sold.

COLEMAN AUTO LICENSE NUMBERS

It is expected that many Coleman cars will wend their way to the west coast this summer now that tire and gasoline restrictions are a thing of the past. For the convenience of Colemanites at the west coast and elsewhere who wish to know the Coleman car license here they are through the courtesy of Fred Antrubus:

44-401 to 44-700 and 37-705 to 37-80

You are advised to clip the numbers and keep them handy so that when you see an Alberta car on the street you can check the license plates and see if it is from the old home town.

Q. What is the average time for a moderately advanced case to become arrested?

A. There is no average time in which to expect arrest of the disease, but the more advanced the disease, the longer it takes to arrest it and the less certain one is of its being accomplished.

HONORED

A surprise party was held at the home of Mrs. J. R. Kerr on Wednesday evening, June 19, in honor of Mrs. Tom Mitchell.

The evening was spent playing bridge, honors being won by Mrs. Tom Mitchell and Mrs. O. Smith. Mrs. Mitchell also won the travelling prize.

A dainty luncheon was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Kerr, Mrs. Mary Fraser, Mrs. J. McNeil and Mrs. J. Price. The tables were beautifully decorated with snapdragons, the gift of Mrs. O. Smith.

Mrs. McNeil, on behalf of the assembled guests, presented the guest of honor with a beautiful black plastic hand bag.

On Friday Mrs. Mitchell and family left for Evansburg to visit relatives before travelling to Mercoal to join her husband.

Non-made bristles... Salting meat on the hoof... Weatherproof duels... Better fruit...

Here's a new brush that looks something like a question mark. But there's no question about it—its nylon bristles will outlast by many times the bristles of the Chinese Hog. This particular brush is for cleaning coffee makers. It is only one of hundreds of new-type nylon brushes now coming on the market.

"All that they want" is the modern farmer's principle when it comes to providing salt for his livestock. With salt blocks or salt boxes in stables, fields and pastures, animals now help themselves, free choice, and grow faster, sturdier because of it. It's just another of the advances in animal nutrition that mark our times.

Durable water repellents that won't come out in washing or dry cleaning will soon be common in many outer garments. Not only will these give protection against showers, but clothes won't spot as easily. These products, such as "Velan" from England and "Zelan" from the United States, are becoming well known to the people who are making textiles for your new clothes.

Fruit that falls prematurely means waste to the orchardist. But chemistry knows a way to keep fruit on the tree until it's ready to be picked. With a hormone spray called "Parnone", which strengthens the stem of the fruit, "windfalls" can be almost eliminated.

Mine Rescue And First Aid Competitions To Be Held At Blairmore On Monday July 1

Cannore and Pass Towns Enter Teams; Presentation of Awards To Be Made At The Smoker In The Evening.

Pass towns on the Alberta side of the border are sponsoring their first Mine Rescue and First Aid competitions in many years. An Association has been organized with J. D. B. Brown, district mines inspector as president. Other officers include D. B. Young, Bellevue, vice-president, Milt. Congdon, Bellevue, secretary. The executive includes Les. McDonald, Bert Bond, A. Tiberghien, M. Kubica, Coleman; M. Hamilton, H. H. Gardner, H. Blake, Blairmore; J. Shearer, S. Lessen, J. McDade, C. Coates and W. Serra, Bellevue-Hillcrest.

Blairmore July 1 sports day has been chosen by the Association for the competitions and they will start promptly at 9 a.m. on the Blairmore Sports Field.

Judges for the mine rescue include

Harry Blake, Blairmore, W. Wilson, Cannore, Les. McDonald, Coleman and Evan Morgan, Lethbridge. Tommy Morgan, Blairmore, will supervise the smoke chamber, Ted. Darroch, Calgary, will supervise the pulse test, R. Oakes, Blairmore, will be tunnel timekeeper with his attendants being E. Blas and T. Williams, Blairmore.

Senior First Aid judges will be Mr. Owen, of Michel, Dr. Hutchinson, Ernie Starr and Dr. Les. Hill, all of Calgary.

Junior First Aid judges will be R. M. Greenhalgh, Coleman, A. Marks and A. McKay, Blairmore, and H. Millar, Bellevue.

A number of handsome donations have been received to be directed towards the prize list and $850 will be spent on prizes.

The general public is given a cordial invitation to attend the competitions.

Mr. And Mrs. I. A. James Leave For Coast

Had Resided in Coleman For Over 30 Years; to Manage an Apartment House in Vancouver.

Coleman lost two of its well known and esteemed citizens on Wednesday morning when Mr. and Mrs. I. A. James boarded the train for Vancouver, where they will make their future home after more than 30 years residence in Coleman.

At the end of last month they travelled to the coast to spend a holiday. It was while there that the opportunity presented itself, providing them with steady employment and a comfortable home. They decided to accept the offer and returned to sell their home and furniture.

It is 39 years since Mr. James first set foot in Coleman, coming from Mommouthshire, England. Mrs. James came with her parents to Coleman 34 years ago. In 1913 they were married in Coleman United church by the Rev. T. M. Murray.

On his arrival here, Gus, as he is known to all, worked for seven years at the International where he worked as a laborer till he worked his way up to the haulage crew. He then entered the employ of McGillivray Creek where he worked for four years as a miner before successfully sitting for his fireboss papers. He was a fireboss in McGillivray for 27 years.

Thinking back to the old days both Mr. and Mrs. James remarked on Coleman's progress up to the present time. The football field used to be where Sixth street is today. The hill where Harry Douglas has his home at the eastern side of Fourth street was covered with trees. Graftontown was not even started then. In East Coleman there were two homes and the rest of the area was covered with trees.

While neither has taken a great deal of activity in community affairs, they have always been interested in local progress. During the years of the first war Gus was interested in First Aid and has several handsome prizes won in competitions. In the past two years Mrs. James has become a member of the Ladies Auxiliary, BESL, and a few months ago joined the Rebekah Lodge.

Several social functions have been held in their honor in past weeks. On Saturday night McGillivray Creek officials held a banquet in the Grand Union at which time Mr. James was presented with a pen-and-pencil set.

As the time of their departure from the old home town drew near they admitted they felt just a little sorrow in leaving Coleman and their many friends.

Their family, Sergeant John is based at Dartmouth and has been absent from Coleman for quite a few years. He is married and last week his wife presented him with a son. Irene, a daughter, is also married and lives at Red Deer. She, her husband and young daughter were here last week to bid her parents "bon voyage."

Mr. and Mrs. James has asked The Journal to convey a welcome to the James Mansion to their many friends when visiting in Vancouver. Their address is 3939 Cambie street.

Accompanying them to Vancouver was Mrs. James' mother, Mrs. Burns, who has been their guest during the past month.

Major Buckley Addressed Lions And B. of Trade

Coleman Lions club and Coleman Board of Trade members held a joint meeting at the Grand Union hotel on Monday evening under the joint chairmen, S. C. Short, of the Lions, and Horace Allen, of the Board of Trade.

Tribute was paid by Lion President Short to Captain M. W. Cooke in his award of the Order of the British Empire. He lauded Captain Cooke's persistent effort in endeavoring to maintain an army unit in the Pass and going further afield in order to do his bit in training young men for Canada's armed forces.

The gathering was treated to half an hour of "magic" by a Mr. Watson, who is at present visiting in Coleman in company with Harry Cady, former Colemanite but now a resident of Portland. Mr. Watson is quite adept at various tricks and was given a big hand.

The principal speaker was Major N. Buckley, Salvation Army officer, of Calgary. Major Buckley dealt mainly with human interest stories, relating his experience with men and women who have passed by his desk and who have frequented the various institutions managed by the Salvation Army. He told of how the Army has taken men and women who have fallen by the wayside and helped them back to respectability.

Following Major Buckley's address, the Board of Trade held a brief meeting.

Frank Aboussafy gave a report on the International Goodwill Convention held at Lethbridge on June 14 and how the Pass delegation which included Lance Morgan, of Blairmore, president of the Southern Trans-Canada Highway Association; President Allen and himself had endeavored to stress the importance of the south western portion of the southern Trans-Canada number 3 highway to inter-provincial and international tourist traffic. They had been successful in having this particular section of the road placed as number one in the highways that should be brought to the provincial government's attention.

The Board will approach station agent B. F. Dixon with a view to making available information on how close each train is running to schedule, particularly the two early morning trains.

WESTERN BOARD OF MUSIC EXAMINATIONS JUNE AND JULY

The examinations of the Western Board of Music, re-organized in Alberta in 1945, are taking place in various centres throughout the province during June and July. The policy of the Board is to have as examiners distinguished musicians from all parts of the country and from other countries. The examination candidates have this year shown a six-fold increase.

Mr. Elmer Hubble, who will examine for the western board of music in this locality this week, has been described as Winnipeg's soundest and most sensitive musician. His work as an examiner, adjudicator and practising musician is largely concerned with the piano-forte. He is a lecturer in music at the University of Manitoba, and has examined extensively for the western board examinations in Manitoba for ten years. In the middle-west he is well known as an orchestral conductor through his association with the Winnipeg Philharmonic Society, the University of Manitoba Student orchestra and the Manitoba schools orchestra. He also holds the post as Organist and Choir director of St. Stephen's Broadway United church in Winnipeg, where the singers have been distinguished by the excellent musical repertoire.

Mr. Hubble has been greatly in demand by Musical Festivals from British Columbia to Manitoba and Minnesota, including those of Lethbridge, Drumheller and Crows' Nest Pass in Alberta, where the enthusiasm and musicianship have already been felt. After examining in Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge, Drumheller and Peace River, Mr. Hubble will act on the Diploma board of the University of Alberta for the examinations of A. Mus. and L. Mus. at the June-July session this will act as lecturer in music at the Summer School of the University year.

discovered by the canoeist and the angler. Many of the lakes and streams in the park areas have had an interval of three or four years in which to build up their fish population, park fish hatcheries have continued to stock them in anticipation of the time when travel to the national parks would resume normal proportions. Now at last that time seems to have arrived, and a great many of the angling fraternity are taking full advantage of these improved conditions.

Although Canada's national parks were established primarily for the purpose of preserving certain outstanding scenic areas and for conserving wild creatures within those areas, they have, largely because of those features, become an important factor in the tourist industry of Canada. This importance has grown with the years. In little more than 60 years the parks have been expanded from 10 square miles to a total area of more than 29,000 square miles. The rise in the number of visitors has been equally progressive. In the years between the two world wars the attendance at the national parks increased from 166,000 to more than a million visitors.

With a return to normal conditions this record number of visitors should be equalled and even surpassed. There is every indication that during 1946, tourist travel to Canada's national parks will be heavy and will tax existing catering facilities to the limit. Indeed, it may be wise for those who can bring along their own sleeping accommodation to do so. Government campsites have been established in all the principal parks. Many of these are equipped with electric light, running water, Kitchen facilities, community buildings, fuel, stoves, benches and modern sanitary facilities. It is generally possible to get food supplies reasonably close to one of these campsites.

The question "where to go?" is always a little difficult to answer as far as the national parks are concerned. It depends very largely on one's tastes in scenery, in recreation and in sport. Those who seek a holiday in the mountains have a wide choice. In the Rockies there are the famous alpine resorts, Banff and Jasper, now connected by one of the most spectacular scenic highways on the North American continent.

In the Selkirk's are Yoho, Kootenay, Mount Revelstoke and Glacier National Parks, each with a charm and majesty distinctly its own. Down in the southwest corner of Alberta, Waterton Lakes National Park with its colorful peaks, varied flora and fauna and its good fishing has a special appeal to many visitors.

Besides the mountain peaks there are 2 big game preserves in Alberta. Elk Island National Park 30 miles east of Edmonton has, since the closing of Buffalo National Park at Wainwright, become the new home of the buffalo. Some of its natural scenic attractions have been developed and it received more than 25,000 visitors in 1945. Wood Buffalo Park lying partly in Alberta and partly in Northwest Territories is, as the name implies, a reserve for the wood bumble.

The other prairie provinces, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, have each one national park. Prince Albert National Park in Saskatchewan is a great wilderness lakeland and a paradise for the canoeist. Established less than 20 years ago it has already developed into a magnificent playground. Riding Mountain in Manitoba, high up on the Manitoba escarpment, was set aside as a national park two years after Prince Albert was established, but for many years previous to this it was a forest reserve.

In the province of Ontario there are three comparatively small national parks. Two of these are composed of groups of islands—St. Lawrence Island's National Park and Georgian Bay Island's National Park. The third, Point Pelee, is a small peninsula place for migratory birds.

The two most recent areas to be added to Canada's national parks system are both in the Maritime Provinces. Prince Edward National Park is a 25-mile strip along the north shore of the island province and includes many spots immortalized in the books of Lucy Maud Montgomery. And lastly, Cape Breton Highland's National Park, with its rugged coastline and mountain background and its deep-sea angling, adds something quite new and different in the way of national park areas.

The national parks of Canada represent an important asset which cannot be depleted by use as long as reasonable care is taken to preserve their natural features. They can be used again, year after year, by hundreds of thousands of visitors and yet handed down from generation to generation, their beauty unimpaired, their allure and interest undiminished, to be used and enjoyed as a great national heritage. Today these national playgrounds have become an indispensable part of the aesthetic and cultural life of the people of Canada, and Canadians are using them to a greater extent than ever before.

Margaret Smith Wins T. Eaton Scholarship

Won Honor During Her Year as Student in the Institute of Technology and Art.

The many friends of Miss Margaret Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Smith, of Sixth street, are congratulating her upon her winning the T. Eaton Co. scholarship of $25 in the art department for the year 1946-47.

The letter informing her of the award was received from the principal, Mr. J. Fowler, and reads:

Dear Miss Smith:

It gives me great pleasure to advise you that you have been awarded the T. Eaton Co. scholarship of $25 for the school year 1946-47. As the holding of this scholarship is contingent on your being enrolled in the Institute of Technology and Art, art department, next school year, we would be glad to hear from you at your early convenience as to whether or not you are likely to be with us again next fall. In the meantime, please accept my very hearty congratulations on this recognition of your work.

Yours faithfully,

J. Fowler, Principal.

The term 1945-46 was Margaret's first year at the Institute, having graduated the year before from the local high school in which she was one of the popular and aggressive members.

To Represent Pass At Western Canada Festival

Require $1,200 to Transport and Maintain Pass Ukrainian Group at Edmonton; Numerous Functions Planned to Raise Money.

Preparations for the Ukrainian Folk Festival to be held at Edmonton July 27 and 28 are well under way in the Crow's Nest Pass. Local organizations of the Association of Ukrainian Canadians of Fernie, Michel, Coleman Bellevue and Hillcrest are co-operating to send a good representation of talent to the Festival, with Coleman supplying most of the talent.

The Crow's Nest Pass contribution to the Festival will consist of a 32-voice mixed choir and about 28 dancers and sportmen. To send this group to Edmonton the expenses will be about $1,200 and the local organizations are busy raising money for this purpose.

The Pass festival committee has planned the following entertainments to raise more funds: Midnight frolic at the Ukrainian hall, Coleman, July 1, 12:00 a.m.

A picnic at Star Creek June 30. A festival display at Fernie on July 7.

A display of festival numbers at Star Creek, Coleman, July 14. The festival committee invites all Pass residents to support these functions and help send the participants to the festival.

ROBERT LAITHWAITE WINS

RODEO NAMING PRIZE

An unfortunate oversight caused Robert Laithwaite's prize winning entry in the Rodeo naming contest from being placed in front of the Rodeo committee last week.

However, it was found by L. S. Richards and upon examination was found to submit the name which was ultimately chosen by the committee. As a result the $250 cash prize is being sent to Robert along with the committee's congratulations.

NEW BONDS COMING

A completely new type of government security is going to be placed on the market this autumn, states The Financial Post.

It will be a "baby bond" type of security, although the exact name has not yet been chosen. It will carry a higher-than-market interest rate and have a number of special features aimed to attract payroll savings and other "small" investors. It will be introduced in time to replace present nation-wide payroll deduction plans.

As well, the Government will float a purely commercial loan next fall through banks and investment dealers. This commercial loan will not be accompanied by wartime sales ballyhoo. Its appearance may coincide with the introduction of the new-type bonds. But the two securities will most likely be marketed quite separately.

Every Young Husband

... should answer these questions:

Were the EXPENSES of starting your home greater than you expected? In most cases the answer is "yes." Probably there is a mortgage and other debts. Given time, you can pay them! But they could be a burden to your wife, if something should happen to you. That is one reason why you should have adequate life insurance protection. Does it matter which COMPANY you insure with? Yes! Life insurance companies are much alike as to policies and rates, but actual long-term results vary widely. Evidence of the satisfaction of Mutual Life policyholders is furnished by the fact that whole families and succeeding generations have entrusted their life insurance programs exclusively to The Mutual Life, and each year approximately 35% of its new business comes from policyholders. Ask your Mutual Life representative to explain the special features of this Company.

A MESSAGE FOR THOSE WHO NEED TRAINED WORKERS

I recommend to you CANADA'S VETERANS...

To take full advantage of the great future possible for Canada, Canadian business will need men of courage and initiative—purposeful men of sound judgment. I know where such men may be found for I have worked with them, lived with them and fought with them. They are Canada's veterans and I am confident that the loyalty, initiative and unflagging determination which made them the best troops in the world will also be the qualities so essential in Canada's business life.

Many are already skilled tradesmen, and many have a sound foundation of skills on which wise employers may build. I know of no better man-power supply in the world than the men and women from Canada's armed forces.

H. D. G. Cregar,
General

CONSIDER THESE SERVICE SKILLS

ARMY TRADE FITTER

Only one of 216 army trades, the trade fitter was trained to make and fit new or reworked parts of guns, power trains, gearing units, valves and machine tools. He had to follow simple sketches and blueprints, and among other duties, make parts from metal castings, forgings and stock. A knowledge of the working properties of steel and non-ferrous metals was essential. He typifies thousands of veterans available to industry today.

ELECTRICAL ARTIFICEER

In the navy, this man maintained electrical navigation equipment, lighting systems, telephone switches and was a specialist in many naval electrical installations. He was a skilled machinist, qualified for general machine work and for manufacturing and repairing electrical equipment. With on-the-job training he would be capable of house and industrial wiring.

STATIONARY ENGINEER—R.C.A.F.

His duties were the installation, operation, overhaul and repair of all heating equipment used by the R.C.A.F. He had a knowledge of steam fitting, valves, pumps of all types and underground and overhead distribution systems. He holds a current provincial first, second or third class certificate. This is only one of the many specialized trades in the R.C.A.F.

Civilian Aviation

THE RECENT DECISION of the Provisional International Civil Aviation Organization, usually referred to as PICAQ, to make its permanent headquarters in the city of Montreal was welcomed in all parts of Canada. PICAQ is considered to be one of the most important of the international organizations and it is a tribute to Canada that aviation leaders from the twenty-seven member states represented should select this country for the site of its permanent headquarters. On air maps showing the northern hemisphere Canada appears to be in the centre, rather than at the top of the world, and many important air routes lie across Canadian skies. As a country which will undoubtedly play a leading part in the future development of aviation, Canada has been deeply interested in the organization of PICAQ, whose work is concerned with establishing an international air technical code and other related matters.

Many Reasons For Concern

In addition to her geographic position, Canada has many other reasons for being deeply interested in the future of commercial aviation. During the war many thousands of Canadians were trained in the production, maintenance and operation of aircraft, and large numbers of these skilled workers are now available for civilian employment. Figures show that more than 120,000 men and women have been employed in the production of aircraft here, while 250,000 men entered the Royal Canadian Air Force for training, 73,000 graduating as air crew. During the war, Canada also developed many fine airports. All these establishments for training or defense purposes are not of practical value for commercial uses, but some others have been leased by the government to municipalities and other bodies for a nominal sum, and will be used for civilian flying. It is estimated that there are some 280 land airports in Canada.

Rapid Advances During The War

As was the case in many fields, aviation made very rapid advances during the war. New international air routes were mapped out, new types of planes were developed and much equipment and many technical devices were invented. All these things have contributed to the making of a new and brilliant chapter in aviation history, but they have also raised many problems in regard to civilian international air travel. PICAQ was organized to deal with these problems and to establish accord among the nations in matters pertaining to civil aviation. The organization faces a difficult and exacting task but if it succeeds it will be an important instrument for preserving world peace. Canada has given leadership in forming this body, and the fact that the permanent headquarters will now be located here adds to the general interest in the success of its work.

Toll Was Heavy

But British Casualties Only Third Of First Great War

A total of 357,116 Britons were killed in the Second Great War, official figures disclosed, 60,595 were civilians, 30,248 were in the merchant navy and fishing fleets, 1,206 were in the Home Guard and 624 in the Women's Auxiliary Services.

Those killed in the services were: Navy 50,708, Army 144,079, Royal Air Force 69,606.

Of the civilians who died from enemy action, 26,923 were men, 25,399 women and 7,736 children under 16.

There also were 537 unidentified bodies.

The figures cover the full fighting period from Sept. 3 1939, to Aug. 14, 1945.

The number killed was approximately about one-third of that in the First Great War.

Benjamin Franklin established the first circulating library in Philadelphia in 1731.

Looking To The Future

British Isles In The Centre Of A Great Oceanic Empire

More than 45 million people inhabit these islands, says the London Sunday Chronicle. How can so many, in so small an area, maintain a standard of living which, if not the highest, is nearly the highest in the world? The answer is clear. It is because these islands are the centre of a great oceanic Empire. That is why the problems of Empire—India, Egypt, Malaya, Palestine—cannot be dismissed by the ordinary citizen as distant and political, no concern of his. In very truth they affect every one of us in our daily life, in what we eat, in how we live. For the whole economic, financial, and industrial structure of this country is built on the foundation of Empire. Sever the Imperial connection and the gloomy prophecies of American observers, who foresee in this country a reduced standard of living and a population of no more than 20 millions or so, may become true.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

NATIONS

A nation is the unity of a people.—Coleridge.

A State to prosper, must be built on foundations of a moral character; and this character is the principal element of its strength and the only guaranty of its permanence and prosperity.—Jacob Curry.

The commandments of God are the bread of life for the nations.—Ruswell D. Hitchcock.

God is Father, infinite, and this great truth, when understood in its divine metaphysics, will establish the brotherhood of man, end wars, and demonstrate "on earth peace, good will toward men."—Mary Baker Eddy.

The true grandeur of nations is in those qualities which constitute the true greatness of the individual.—Charles Sumner.

Until nations are generous they will never be wise; true policy is generous policy; all bitterness, selfishness, etc., may gain small ends, but lose great ones.—Washington Irving.

The United Nations flag, also known as the four freedoms flag, consists of four vertical red bars on a white field. It has not been officially adopted.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—Where do we turn in spare ration coupons or meat tokens? I have been told if we turn in unused valid ration coupons, rationed food equal to the value of coupons, will be forwarded overseas to starving people.

A.—The local ration board in your community will accept any spare ration coupons you may have. Your local ration board can also give you information about groups who will be collecting ration coupons in your neighbourhood. Every group must carry an official card from the Ration Administration and you are to ask to see this card before handing over your coupons or tokens.

Q.—We will be hiring extra help from time to time on our farm this summer. How many meals must I serve before I am entitled to extra coupons?

A.—Extra ration coupons are only issued for a total of twelve meals or over. If extra help is required for two weeks or more, the ration book of the person employed must be given to you.

Q.—I heard on the radio that meat coupons M-29 to M-39 and butter coupons R-1 to R-9 will become invalid for the purchase of these commodities after June 30. Does this mean that the "Beaver" coupons, issued to members of the armed forces and other temporary ration holders, will also be declared invalid?

A.—"Beaver" coupons will not be affected by the radio announcement, which you heard. These "Beaver" coupons, and all sugar coupons, will remain valid until further notice.

Q.—I am planning on a visit to the United States. I will be staying with friends of mine and would like to know if I will be entitled to sugar ration coupons when I enter the States.

A.—If you apply at any local branch of the Office of the Price Administration in the United States, you will be allowed sugar ration points. You are entitled to ration points if you are staying for over two weeks in the States.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book in which you can keep track of your rationing points, mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

SAFETY MEASURE

According to the Scientific American, a new radio distance indicator for trains which can detect the approach of any other train up to eight miles is now being put into use by the Rock Island R.R. to eliminate danger of accidents. These "radio" units are installed both in front and in the rear of trains; they send out signals in code, and automatically convert signals received into distance, thus immediately warning the engineer of any danger.

Judge Advises Applicants For Citizenship To Read Newspaper

"To keep properly posted about your new country I can give you no better advice than to read your newspaper. It is a complete fund of knowledge of news and events both here and abroad."

These are the words of Judge J. H. McDonald, of Sault Ste. Marie, addressed to nine aspirants for Canadian citizenship, in his court recently. His advice was given special point when one of the applicants could not even name the Canadian Prime Minister, the Premier of Ontario—or even the mayor of Sault Ste. Marie.

Ghost Rocket

Was Seen To Pass Over Finland At High Altitude

Witnesses said they had seen a light-emitting "ghost rocket" pass over Helsinki, the Finnish capital, in a southerly direction. The rocket, the observers said, was flying at an altitude of 900 to 1200 feet and was followed by a smoke trail. It was the first one observed in Finland, although several have been reported lately crossing southern Sweden and Denmark in approximately the same direction.

More Recognition

Should Be Given To Authors And Composers In Canada

More scope and better rewards for Canadian authors and composers were advocated by Leslie A. Boosey, leading English music publisher, who attended the annual meeting of the Canadian Authors' and Publishers' Association in Toronto.

"Canadians tend to underestimate the value of their authors and publishers and limit rewards to individuals and societies," said Mr. Boosey, president of the International Confederation of Authors' and Composers' Society.

Radio Speeches

Question Is As To Whether A Half-Hour Speech Is Too Long

In connection with political speeches on the radio, the question has arisen as to whether a half-hour political speech isn't too long. That, it seems to us, depends on the speaker. A half-hour radio speech by Mr. Churchill might seem to many too short; a quarter-hour speech by an inferior speaker might seem to many too long. We ourselves have heard radio speakers and thought after five minutes they were too long.

We forget who it was that said of Bacon that when he was speaking "men feared he might make an end." The trouble with most of our radio speakers, and some of our platform speakers too, is that they make their hearers fear they will never make an end. A further trouble with some of our radio speakers is that they make no attempt to find out what radio speaking is about. They don't seem to understand that when they are speaking on the radio they are speaking to people in their homes, and that, given the privilege of entering such homes, they should do so with grace and good manners.—Ottawa Journal.

SMILE AWHILE

Wife: "Are all men as stupid as you are?"

Husband: "No, dear, look at all the bachelors there."

Mother: "I told you just now to stop that noise!"

John: "I know, but this isn't the same noise. I was playing the drum then, but I'm blowing my whistle now!"

"Married men make the best commercial travellers," asserts a business magnate.

No doubt because they are so used in taking orders.

"Hello, old man, I haven't seen you for some time."

"I've been in bed for seven weeks."

"That's too bad. Flu, I suppose?"

"Yes and crashed."

Visitor: "My, you're a bright little girl. How do you know it's the first of the month?"

Child: "Cause all of daddy's letters have front windows in them."

Teacher: "Do you know why the little chickens came out of the eggs, Tommy?"

Sergeant: "They know they'd get cooked if they stayed inside."

"I believe," said the bride, "in a perfect understanding between a man and wife. I intend to make my husband understand that he no longer can do whatever he pleases."

Cavalry Recruit: "I don't like the look of the horse's head, sir."

Sergeant: "Oh, don't worry. You'll soon get over that!"

Husband: "Anything nice for tea tonight, dear?"

Wife: "Oh, yes, sponge cake. I sponged the eggs from Mrs. Smith, the flour from Mrs. Jones and the milk from Mrs. Duncan."

"How did your wife like the diamond ring you gave her for her birthday?"

"Delighted. She was awfully nice for a couple of days. But she's herself again now."

"George looks worried today. What's wrong with him?"

"His wife's? I didn't know she was dead."

"She isn't."

Teacher: "There's only one truthful boy in this class."
Smith (in an undertone), "That's me."
Teacher: "Did you speak, Smith?"
Smith: "No, sir."

Despite Shortages

Thousand-Year-Old Custom Observed Recently In English Village

ST. BRIAVELS, England.—Bread is scarce and cheese is rationed in Britain, but hundreds had both for the asking at a 1,000-year-old ceremony at this Gloucestershire hamlet.

Fifty pounds of bread and cheese in small cubes were thrown from a wall to townspeople and visitors: The Whitsunday custom commemorates the right of villagers to take wood from a section of the Forest of Dean.

Just how the bread and cheese is linked with the wood, no one remembers. The right of villagers to take the refreshments, The Food Ministry did not ask for ration coupons.

Orphan Village

To Be Built In Switzerland To Shelter Children From Devastated Europe

Foundations of a village to shelter 350 orphans from various devastated European countries were laid recently on an eleven-acre tract near Trogen, in the mountainous eastern part of Switzerland.

The first 15 dwellings will be built in Swiss farm style, surrounded by orchards and pastures. Three to five houses will be grouped to form a community where the children will be instructed by Swiss and foreign teachers.

The children's village was named Pestalozzi, after the famous Swiss educator who died in 1827.

The insecticide now known as DDT was first compounded in 1874, but its practical value was not determined until 1939.

with "MAGIC" EGG ROLL

2 c. flour
4 t. Magic Baking Powder
1/2 t. salt
1/2 c. shortening
1 egg
1/4 c. milk
5 hard-boiled eggs
4 t. milk
3 t. lemon juice
3 t. chopped onion
2 t. chopped parsley
2 t. chopped green pepper
1 t. dry mustard
Salt, pepper, paprika

Sift together first 3 ingredients. Cut in shortening. Beat egg in measuring cup; add milk to make 1 cup; add to first mixture. Roll out 1/4 inch thick, on floured board. Chop hard-boiled eggs, mix with remaining ingredients, spread on dough. Roll up like jelly roll and bake in hot oven (425° F.) 30 minutes. Serve with cheese sauce.

GENERAL EISENHOWER SAYS WAR WAS WON BY THE EXCELLENT ALLIED TEAM WORK

WASHINGTON.—"The war was won before the Rhine was crossed," Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said in a report.

The report credited victory to Allied teamwork and Nazi mistakes, termed Field Marshal Montgomery's handling of the tactical situation at Caen "masterly" and gave extended credit to the contribution of Canadian forces.

The former supreme Allied commander, now United States army chief of staff, submitted a 90,000-word report to the combined chiefs of staff covering June 6, 1944 to May 8, 1945—D-Day to VE-Day.

Throughout the report there are numerous references to the 1st Canadian army, its tasks and performances, particularly Caen and Falaise in Normandy.

Gen. Eisenhower described the fight at the "Falaise pocket" as the "second vital battle" of the European operation, and said:

"Without the great sacrifices made here by the Anglo-Canadian armies in the series of brutal, slugging battles, first for Caen and then for Falaise, the spectacular advances made elsewhere by the Allied forces could never have come about.

"Here (at Falaise) the enemy showed that fatal tendency to stand and fight when all the logic of war demanded a strategic withdrawal.

"By so doing he allowed his seventh army to be encircled and ground to pieces and the battle for France was decided among the bloody orchards and hedgerows of Normandy."

Gen. Eisenhower described the difficult task assigned the British and Canadian forces at Caen, retention of which was "the key to the main enemy strategy."

"Every foot of ground the enemy lost at Caen was like losing 10 miles anywhere else."

Dealing with the enemy's stubborn resistance in the Caen sector, Gen. Eisenhower said:

"Field Marshal Montgomery's tactical handling of this situation was masterly."

He frequently mentioned points of strategy in which he was supported by Field Marshal Montgomery's advice, particularly in the decision to use five divisions in the invasion instead of three as originally planned, and the supreme commander's determination to "pin down and destroy substantial portions of the enemy in our immediate front."

The report said that the European victory was clinched in three decisive battles by Allied might and teamwork and by German mistakes.

"The war was won before the Rhine was crossed."

Hitler and Field Marshal Von Rundstedt guessed wrong at D-Day by holding the bulk of their forces in wait for a second assault which never came.

Then "the enemy played into our hands by his insistence upon fighting the battle where he stood."

Grave Problems In Dealing With Two Minorities

SHANGHAI.—Post-war life is posing grave problems of government allegiance for two foreign minorities in China—the Russians and their Polish cousins.

The Russians face a choice of future citizenship. Most of them have been stateless since they fled Russia in the years after the First Great War. Now they may accept U.S.S.R. passports, seek Chinese papers, or remain as they have been for many years, stateless.

The problems of Shanghai's Polish colony is less pressing. They are in the process of transferring allegiance from the old Polish government-in-exile in London to the present Warsaw government.

Several months ago Russian government representatives in China advised the Russian colony here that its members were eligible for citizenship.

The deadline for acceptance of applications recently was extended to July 3. Most Russians said this indicated the response to the original invitation had been disappointing.

More than 2,000 "White Russians" in Shanghai have obtained Chinese nationality, but the bulk of the colony remains without a country.

China's Polish residents have adopted an attitude of "waiting for developments." Most of them remained neutral in the political squabbles between London and Lublin. Most are anxious to give the new Poland a chance to demonstrate itself and its ability to care for its people abroad.

RUINED CROPS

Ontario Farmers Survey Damage Caused By Recent Tornado

CHATHAM, Ont.—Farmers throughout southeastern Ontario plain, lying between Lake Erie and Lake St. Clair, stared dejectedly at ruined crops and flooded lands, aftermath of the tornado which swept Windsor and Detroit, causing an estimated $5,000,000 damage.

Practically all the plain was water-logged or flooded, its surface dotted by strips of metal and debris, strewn about in the disaster. Not one farm in Essex and Kent counties escaped, and some farmers had as many as 100 acres inundated.

Most of the corn belt in Kent and northern Essex was under water, threatening almost total destruction of the crop, which had been increased this year to supply needy European countries. More than 90 per cent. of Ontario commercial corn comes from this section.

Tomato and tobacco crops were wiped out in the flat peninsula of Essex county and farmers would not estimate the loss, clinging to the hope something might be salvaged.

CHANGE PROPOSED

Britain Will Consult Dominions On Armistice Day Date

LONDON.—The Evening News in a front-page story said plans have been completed to change Armistice day from Nov. 11 to the second Sunday in November, when the dead of both great wars would be commemorated.

"Several questions on Armistice day have been asked in the house of commons and it was stated that the dominions would be consulted before a decision was reached," said the newspaper.

POMP AND POWER OF INDIAN NAWABS will disappear if British negotiations with Indian leaders are successful. All residents of India will be affected by the change.

DISCUSS PLANS TO GIVE VETERANS PRIORITY IN THE PURCHASE OF FARM MACHINERY

TIME EXTENDED

High Price Level On Fowl Is Now July 31

OTTAWA.—To discourage early slaughtering of laying hens and thus maintain maximum egg production across Canada, the period during which fowls (hens) may sell at the highest price level has been extended from June 30 to July 31, the prices board announced.

Board officials explained that because of the unusually cool weather the majority of flocks were still in good laying condition and by extending the high price period, poultry men would be encouraged to hold the fowl for a longer period.

Under the previous order the price would have dropped 2½ cents per pound on July 1. The drop now is scheduled to take place August 1.

STRIKE IN CAIRO

King Farouk Able To End Dispute With Telegraph Workers

CAIRO.—A strike of 1,000 Egyptian telegraph workers, which had paralyzed the country's internal telegraph system for 48 hours, ended after King Farouk responded to the workers' appeal for royal protection.

Strong forces of police surrounded Cairo's telegraph administration headquarters and prevented food and water from reaching the strikers, who had barricaded themselves in. Some of the strikers, however, managed to reach the royal palace, and appealed to the king for protection.

At King Farouk's request food was allowed to enter the building, and an official promise was given to the strikers that the requests for better working conditions would be met.

AN ESSENTIAL FACTOR

CHARLOTTETOWN.—Good, clean food is one of the big factors in building up a successful tourist trade, Nat Bailey of Vancouver, president of the Canadian Restaurant Association, told delegates at the opening of the two-day convention of the maritime section.

OTTAWA.—Plans to give veterans top priorities in purchasing farm machinery and surplus assets through regular retail channels were placed before the veterans' committee of the commons by J. S. Crawford, farm equipment chief of the Veterans' Land act.

He suggested it was feasible for veterans' certificates need and identification to be recognized as binding and primary by dealers now handling the trucks, tractors and automobiles turned over by the government's War Assets Corporation. Repeated complaints have been heard against the present loose system of priority for veterans.

W. S. Woods, deputy veterans' minister, said War Assets Corporation had rejected individual dealing with veterans because it would mean establishing a retail organization of its own across Canada.

Further, it had found "administratively impractical" a suggestion of a government interdepartmental committee that individual veterans be given priorities through W.A.C. local offices which would be binding on dealers.

Again, Mr. Woods considered it impractical for the veterans' department to act as a retailing intermediary for veterans.

E. E. Fulton (P.C.-Kamloops) urged that the department collect veterans' requirements for such things as farm machinery and pass them on to W.A.C. with the necessary priorities. Mr. Woods said his department could easily provide the priority certificates. The crux problem was one of distribution.

Adjournment saw no final decision but there was agreement that official's of departments concerned should be called in to aid further study.

ABOVE NORMAL RANGE

TORQUAY, Devon, Eng.—Clear reception of television pictures from Alexandra palace, the BBC's television transmitting station in north London, more than 200 miles distant, was reported by a reviewer using a pre-war set in a cliff-top village near Torquay. Normal range is 40 miles.

SAYS CANADA MUST SEEK NEW MARKETS IN ORDER TO INCREASE OUR TRADE

EDMONTON.—Trade Minister MacKinnon said Canada faced a challenge to broaden and diversify her trade and seek new markets to supplement the two traditional and essential outlets—Britain and the United States—for Canadian goods.

Delivering an address before the national convention of the Canadian junior chamber of commerce, he added that if Canada could not find markets for her goods "at satisfactory prices we will at once feel the sad consequences here in Canada."

Reviewing the markets open to the Dominion, he said substantial progress had been made during the war in increasing trade with South America and expressed belief a "very large market" could be developed in those countries, which had expressed their "keenest desire" to increase their trading relations with Canada.

"It is the opinion of my officials in the department of trade and commerce," he added, "that we can expect the greatest expansion in our trade in Latin America that we have ever known—far greater than what we enjoyed during the war when we increased our exports by 70 per cent. and our imports of essential raw materials by 400 per cent."

He expressed belief Canada had failed to give the Pacific market all the attention it deserved and said that with Japan defeated Canada now had a "great opportunity to increase our trade with the Orient on a mutual and profitable basis if we address ourselves to this task with vigor and efficiency."

He noted that in 1939 Canadian exports to Australia, New Zealand, China, India and Japan formed less than 10 per cent. of Canada's total export trade and said this illustrated how great an increase could be obtained in those markets.

Trade with India had increased during the war and should now be built up as the resources of the two countries were complementary rather than competitive. The Dominion also could enjoy a substantial volume of trade with China if she increased her attention in that "great potential market."

TO BE DESTROYED

British Naval Officer Says Heligoland Will Be Blown Up

CUNHAVEN, Germany.—A senior British naval officer said the great German island fortress of Heligoland will be "blown up" within three months and be fit only for "a beautiful bird sanctuary."

Plans are to set off explosive charges totalling several hundred tons in one great blast.

The officer said the island would never again be fit for human habitation. The island is about 130 acres and had 4,000 inhabitants before the war.
